Georgia Army National Guard Pfc. Stephan Fields of Eastman, and a rifleman with Milledgeville's Company D, 1st Battalion, 121st Infantry, and Georgian army 4th Infantry Brigade Soldier perform the steps for evaluating a casualty's condition, Wed., July 16, 2008, during a combat lifesaver class at Vaziani Military Base near Tbilisi, Georgia. Fields and other Soldiers of the 121st, Winder's Company E, 148th Brigade Support Battalion and Glennville's 122nd Rear Operations Center are in the country of Georgia for three weeks participating Exercise Immediate Response 2008. They are among the more than 1,000 active-duty, Guard and Reserve personnel taking part in IR08. Also training in this year's event are troops from Azerbaijan, Armenia and Ukraine. Last year's exercise was held in Poland. Immediate Response is an annual, Joint Chiefs-of-Staff directed "bilateral security cooperation exercise conducted between the U.S. and its coalition partners." The three weeks of IR08 also gives Fields and his fellow Guardsmen the opportunity to conduct training related to their deployment with Macon's 48th Infantry Brigade Combat Team next year in Afghanistan. The exercise also is an opportunity for the Georgian's to get ready for their upcoming deployment to Iraq. When he's not serving with the Guard, fields is a forklift driver for Huskavana Lawnmower Manufacturer. (Georgia National Guard photo by Sgt. 1st Class Roy Henry)
